

Contents

	Foreword	1
	Introduction	2
BOOK ONE	SPEECHMAKING	5
Part One	Preparation	7
ONE	Thinking on your feet – and how to prepare	8
TWO	The Skeleton of a Speech	13
THREE	In the beginning... and at the end	16
FOUR	Ideas and ‘mine’ file	21
FIVE	Training in speechmaking	23
Part Two	Delivery	25
SIX	Nerve control	26
SEVEN	Appearance, body language and authority – on the platform or in the media	29
EIGHT	Be yourself	36
NINE	Produce and project your voice – pause – and lift	38
TEN	The pause	40
ELEVEN	Notes, cards, prompts – and reading	44
TWELVE	Timing	50
THIRTEEN	Style	54
FOURTEEN	Wit and Humour	57
FIFTEEN	Overstatement and repetition	62
SIXTEEN	Tact and sensitivity	65
SEVENTEEN	Quotes and statistics	68
EIGHTEEN	Credits	70

Part Three	Language	73
NINETEEN	Certainty, uncertainty, and – I think	75
TWENTY	Clichés and pomposities	76
TWENTY ONE	‘I’ – the vertical pronoun	79
TWENTY TWO	Jargon, platitudes, grammar and brevity	82
TWENTY THREE	Actually, basically, essentially... kinda... sorta... like...	85
Part Four	Practicalities	87
TWENTY FOUR	Preparing your venue – and your audience	88
TWENTY FIVE	Visual aids	92
TWENTY SIX	Ceremonial and commercial	99
TWENTY SEVEN	Microphones	101
Part five	Occasions	105
TWENTY EIGHT	Pitching – and ‘beauty contests’	106
TWENTY NINE	Meetings, conferences and seminars	109
THIRTY	Foreign languages – and interpreters	113
THIRTY ONE	After dinner	118
THIRTY TWO	Votes of thanks	121
THIRTY THREE	Presentations and awards – as giver and receiver	124
THIRTY FOUR	Family and other celebrations and commemorations	129
THIRTY FIVE	Appeals and fundraising	134
THIRTY SIX	Panels	138
THIRTY SEVEN	In the open	140
THIRTY EIGHT	While others speak	142
THIRTY NINE	Impromptu	144
FORTY	The media – access and handling	146
FORTY ONE	Radio – the sightless wonder	155
FORTY TWO	TV – your head on the box	159

Part Six	Handling your audience problems and solutions	165
FORTY THREE	Handling large audiences	166
FORTY FOUR	Questions and hostility	171
FORTY FIVE	Interruptions	177
FORTY SIX	Sensitivities	179
FORTY SEVEN	Persuading – the art of advocacy	182
FORTY EIGHT	Defamation – speaking ill of others	185
FORTY NINE	Coping with disaster	187
FIFTY	Coping with attack	189
Part Seven	Chairing	193
FIFTY ONE	Winning from the Chair	194
FIFTY TWO	The Chair as compere	201
FIFTY THREE	Debates and procedures – the formalities	203
Part Eight	Tricks of the trade	207
FIFTY FOUR	Top tips and techniques	208
FIFTY FIVE	Finally...	216
BOOK TWO	MODEL SPEECHES	217
FIFTY SIX	Openings	218
FIFTY SEVEN	Business speeches	225
FIFTY EIGHT	Introductions, greetings and thanks	231
BOOK THREE	CLASSIC SPEECHES	243
FIFTY NINE	Winston Churchill: ‘Blood, toil, tears and sweat’ – 1940	244
SIXTY	Jawaharlal Nehru: ‘A glory has departed’	246
SIXTY ONE	Harold Macmillan: ‘The winds of change’	249
SIXTY TWO	Martin Luther King: ‘I have a dream’	250
SIXTY THREE	Hugh Gaitskell: ‘Fight and fight and fight again’	252
SIXTY FOUR	Aneurin Bevan: ‘Socialism unbeaten’	254
SIXTY FIVE	Tony Blair: ‘The conflict in Afghanistan’	256

BOOK FOUR	COMPENDIUM OF RETELLABLE TALES	259
	Introduction to the Compendium of Retellable Tales	260
SIXTY SIX	Presentations, speeches and stories	262
SIXTY SEVEN	Epigrams and definitions, proverbs and laws	269
SIXTY EIGHT	Insults	287
SIXTY NINE	Finance and insolvency	295
SEVENTY	Business and professions, industry, companies, and employment	299
SEVENTY ONE	Politics, politicians and government	310
SEVENTY TWO	Overseas – and diplomatic	326
SEVENTY THREE	Law and lawyers, crimes and courts	331
SEVENTY FOUR	Faith, religion and ethics	340
SEVENTY FIVE	Sex, love, marriage and family	346
SEVENTY SIX	Food, drink and travel	357
SEVENTY SEVEN	Health and hospitals	360
SEVENTY EIGHT	Age, death – and the end	366
	Index	377
	Index to Retellable Tales	386