

Contents

	Introduction	1
	Symbols used in this book	4
ONE	From managing change to managing surprise?	5
	Support functions under attack	10
	The opportunity	11
	What exactly is consultancy?	12
	The difference between expert and process consulting	13
	What is the difference between the internal and external consultant?	18
	The characteristics of internal consultancy	24
	Why use an internal consultant?	28
	How to become an internal consultant	35
	Time to convert and redirect	36
TWO	The art of client management	39
	Understanding the key stages of the internal consulting process	40
	Implementation	54
	Belbin's team roles – questionnaire	58

THREE	Marketing internal consultancy	79
	Getting in and contracting with your client	80
	Developing your marketing strategy	82
	Conducting a client demand analysis	84
	What clients look for	87
	Beginning to market yourself – recognising your starting point	91
	Marketing to senior management	92
	How to sell to senior management	93
	Some practical tips to improve your marketing effort	96
	Internal consultancy case study	98
FOUR	Managing initial client meetings	105
	The essential rules for managing initial client meetings	107
	Things to avoid at initial meetings	111
	How to convey respect, openness and understanding at an initial client meeting	112
	Initial client meetings consultant’s template	113
	Initial terms of reference	116
	Writing client proposals	124
	Managing initial meetings checklist	127
FIVE	Understanding and defining the client’s problem	131
	Desk research	133
	Interviewing clients	135
	Managing the client interview	139
	Group interviews	143
	Types of interview questioning techniques	148
	Providing non-verbal encouragement during interviews	153
	Using supportive statements	153

	Counter-productive questions	158
	Using questionnaires to gather information	160
	Designing a questionnaire	160
	Process mapping	176
	Process analysis questions	183
	Understanding and defining your client's problem – being client focused	185
SIX	Managing change	189
	Understanding organizational change	190
	Individual reactions to change	191
	The change transition curve	196
	Managing organizational change	201
	Organizational change readiness assessment	205
	Managing organizational change template	206
	Change management template – the critical success factors	208
	Stakeholder Analysis	215
	Managing organization change – a checklist of key questions to address	217
	The critical questions to ask in change scenarios	223
SEVEN	Presenting client feedback	225
	Introduction to report writing	227
	Different types of client report	230
	Getting your report structure right	230
	A typical report structure	231
	Writing a client report	233
	Reviewing reports	239
	Making client presentations	240
	Presenting client feedback – being client focused	250

EIGHT	Implementing, reviewing and exiting projects	255
	Project implementation	256
	Project implementation – being client focused	259
	Reviewing consultancy projects – being client focused	261
	Evaluating consultancy projects	262
	Summary	264
NINE	The internal consultant’s toolkit	265
	The consultant’s toolkit	266
	Organization capability: effectiveness questionnaire • ‘7s’ organization audit	271
	Internal consultant skills – development needs checklist	279
	Success factors in managing change	286
	Change management action planning sheet	287

List of illustrations

Figure		Page
1	The transition from old to new management	9
2	Expert and process consulting	14
3	Where is your bias – expert or process?	17
4	The client management process	41
5	Belbin’s team types	58
6	Project team working roles	76
7	Belbin’s team types – my project team	77
8	Mapping your customers/clients	85
9	Marketing internal consultancy	91
10	Project terms of reference	120
11	Information gathering techniques	133
12	Using a SWOT analysis to gather and assess information	145
13	Forcefield analysis	147
14	Gathering information – the questionnaire process	161
15	An example of the Likert Scale on a questionnaire	168
16	Survey feedback displayed graphically	175
17	Process thinking and value added	176
18	The process toolkit	177
19	How to classify value added and non-value added	178
20	What is driving performance?	180
21	This is how your process maps should look	181
22	Process thinking – wider organizational analysis	182
23	Managing the change	191

24	Organization – change readiness assessment	206
25	Managing change template	214
26	Stakeholder analysis – key strategies	216
27	Developing a report structure	238
28	Presenting client options	249
29	Project master plan	257
30	Risk assessment in projects	258
31	Risk analysis	258