

Contents

	Introduction	1
	Why this book?	1
ONE	What is executive coaching?	5
	So, what are the pieces of the coaching jigsaw?	8
	The role of the Human Resources function	15
	What will success look like?	22
	Creating a coaching environment	24
TWO	The organizational context	25
	Identifying the need	25
	Feedback	27
THREE	Where executive coaching makes the difference	35
	Assimilation coaching	36
	Performance coaching	37
	Career coaching	38
	Coaching during projects	41
	Inbound coaching	44
	Coaching during mergers and acquisitions	46
	Coaching to non-executive directors	48
	Coaching during outplacement	49
	Coaching teams	50
	Enhancing manager's skills	52
	...And the ones that get away	52

FOUR	How does it work?	55
	Preparation	55
	How will we work together?	59
	What will success look like?	62
	Delivery	63
	Coaching teams	70
	Closure and sign off	74
	Tools and techniques	75
FIVE	The coach as consultant	83
	Initial contact	83
	Issues for the internal coach	95
SIX	What to look for in a coach	103
	Coaches to avoid	103
	What works?	105
	Is who you see, who you get?	109
SEVEN	What to look for as a potential coach	115
	What are the reasons for your interest in executive coaching?	115
	How much do you know about executive coaching?	116
	Training to be an executive coach	116
	Market research	119
	Working as an executive coach	119
EIGHT	Making this book work for you	123
	Does your organization need executive coaching?	123
	Finally	128
	Further information	129

APPENDIX ONE

British Association for Counselling and Psychotherapy	133
Personal qualities	133

APPENDIX TWO

The British Psychological Society Code of Good Practice for Psychological Testing	135
--	------------

APPENDIX THREE

The European Mentoring and Coaching Council	137
Vision and aims	137
Bibliography	139